Presenting the mighty aristocrat of light-duty trucks—the 1954 GMC

HERE is the most extraordinary light-duty truck ever built. It has the smart styling of a fine passenger car—a sweeping grille of modern design—a panoramic piece windshield—two-tone interiors with harmonizing upholstery—luxury features that will make you proud to be seen in it.

And it has a whopping 125-horsepower engine—more powerful than many trucks with a two-ton rating. The Pickup—one of 19—has a box that holds up to 11 more cubic feet than last year's capacious model. Its tail gate is grain-tight—and sand-tight.

And—a truck feature pioneered by GMC—it offers the diversifying, money-saving advantages of Truck Hydro-Matic Drive. One final and surprising point. The price of the GMC value for value, is unsurpassed anywhere on the truck market.

That's the story. The next move is yours. Come in truck. And—make it soon.

ly-appearing gentleman and made a plea for a small sum of money. When the beggar had finished his tale of woe and misery, the gentleman replied, "My friend, I have no money. The beggar was disgusted. "If you ain't got no money," he jerked, "I reckon your advice ain't worth a cent."

Judgments of value differ. We build a mental or moral platform of timbers that please us. From it we deliver advice on how others should build their platforms. It may be that others have different ideas of platforms that they would like to build. If their platforms do not injure us, what right do we have to criticize them? Rather than condemn them for their different opinions, how much better it is to build our platforms so beautifully as to live on them so serenely and happily that our neighbors will aspire to follow our examples. More men are convinced by example than by lectures. Ben Franklin wrote, "No one preaches better than the ant and she says nothing."

DEATH FROM INFLUENZA IN FLA. EXCEEDS 1952

Influence, the enemy that is everybody's disease, apparently is putting more than the usual number of persons to bed this winter, the State Board of Health has observed.

It gets an index of the prevalence of the disease from cases reported, although these are only a small number of the total cases, explained Dr. L. L. Parks, director of the Bureau of Preventable Diseases. In 1953, 1,405 cases were reported by doctors to the State Board of Health, compared with only 215 for 1952. Furthermore, last year 205 persons died of the flu, 90 more than the year before.

Not much is known about prevention and cure of influenza and its cousin, the common cold. They are caused by a variety of organisms, or viruses, and there are vaccines for only two of them.

What A Friend We Have In Jesus

A Carpenter and The Lord Write a Hymn Together

Grief fell over the town of Lake Ridge, Canada. One of the community's most beloved citizens died. Some believed his death was a tragedy, but the poor people—those who knew him best—wondered if their friend had taken his life.

Joseph Scriven was born in Dublin in 1820. He was educated on the Emerald Isle and graduated from Trinity College. He was a youth of high ideals and a beautiful tenor who sang in the choir of his church. He was a high bop, then when he was about 25 he was stricken with the body of the young Irishman's bride-to-be was pulled from a pool of water where she had accidentally drowned.

Scriven never overcame the shock. At twenty five he migrated to Canada in the hope of forgetting. But he never forgot. For forty years the melancholy man associated himself only with the poor. He worked at simple labor and refused employment from those who were able to pay. Most of his time was spent at a saw mill and doing patch carpentry for widows and the sick.

One day when he was ill an attending neighbor found a poem in his room. Questioned as to the authorship, Scriven replied, "The Lord and I wrote it between us."

It was October 10, 1858, and Joseph Scriven was dead. Like his sorrow-stricken neighbor, his body was pulled from a pool of water. Whether he died of his own design didn't really matter. His neighbors built a monument to his memory, because he had devoted his life to the poor. The hymn Scriven said to the Lord wrote together.

Let us find a friend so faithful, Who will all our sorrows share; Jesus knows our every weakness, Take us to the Lord in prayer.

Are we weak and heavy-laden, Cumbed with a load of care; Precious Saviour, still our refuge, Take us to the Lord in prayer.

Do thy friends despise and forsake thee? Take it to the Lord in prayer! Thine arms He'll take and shield thee, Thous wilt find a solace there.

What a friend we have in Jesus, Who still our sorrows share! Jesus knows our every weakness, Take us to the Lord in prayer!

O what peace we often forfeit, O what needless pain we bear, All because we do not carry Everything to the Lord in prayer.

Have we trials and temptations? Is there trouble anywhere? We should never be discouraged, Take it to the Lord in prayer.

Throughout the year. Both the morning and evening church service will be based on the previously assigned weekly Home Bible Reading.

The Wednesday evening services will be devoted to the monthly church emphasis: each month the services will be as follows: 1st Wednesday, pot luck supper and movie based on the month's emphasis; 2nd Wednesday, musical program; 3rd Wednesday, the men of the church will have an informal guest speaker; Wednesday, the women of the church will have their general meeting, which will feature the month's emphasis.

Some of the church's emphasis are as follows: Missions, Evangelism, Christian Citizenship.

SPY KNOCKE GUEST PRAY KNOCKE AT WMU

The December meeting of the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church had as their guest speaker Ray Koonce, from the Baptist Student Union of the State of Florida.

Mr. Koonce, who recently visited in South and Central America Mission Fields and attended the Youth Conference in Brazil gave a highly interesting talk of the people and especially the lower classes and how much the gospel was needed there. As he told about these people he showed slides and pictures.

HANDICAPPED LIVES TOPIC OF FATHER PETRIE ON SUNDAY

"Handicapped Lives" will be the sermon topic next Sunday at 9 a.m. at the Episcopal Church of St. John the Apostle which meets in the Women's Club building. The service will be the Holy Communion celebrated by the vicar, Father John Clarynce Petrie. At 7:30 a.m. Father Petrie will conduct service at the Prison Farm chapel.

In his sermon last Sunday Father Petrie said that many modern people are hypocrites in reverse. Whereas the old time hypocrite tried to make believe he was better than he was the modern pretends that he is worse than he is. We are all sinners; and sometimes we are pretty bad ones. Nevertheless there are such things as a person who is all bad with no good in him. When we are tempted to despair about ourselves we should count our assets and then build on them. We are children of God with minds and a free will. We live in a country where no one need starve even though the going may get rough at times. The world is a goodly one, people willing to give a full of and outer a break. And when we turn to God, He turns to us.

The following correlative passage will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"We should strive to reach the heights where God is revealed; and the corner-stone of all spiritual building is purified of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God; and at times, we are approaching actual life and its demonstration" (241:24). The Golden Text is from Gal-

"Ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ" (3:26:27).

OUTLINE FOR THE INTERNATIONAL UNIFORM SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON—January 10, 1954

LESSON TOPIC: "How to Use His Authority" SCRIPTURE LESSON—John 2:13-25 By Rev. Robert Ford

INTRODUCTION:

As we continue our study in the Gospel of John, we come to two important incidents in the life of Jesus. In the section of the 2nd Chapter before the printed text, we have Jesus showing his authority by turning the water into wine at the marriage feast at Cana. The showing of His Authority is in the cleansing of the Temple; in foreshadowing His Resurrection; and in Searching I. PURIFYING THE WORSHIP OF GOD—vs. 13-17

Evil creeps in very insidiously. No doubt the priests could make good cause for the commercialism in the Temple. But II. PROPHECYING HIS OWN RESURRECTION—vs. 18-22 This was one of His "hard sayings" that was remembered by his enemies some 3 years later. The words of the angel at the tomb of Christ was "He has risen as he said."

III. PENETRATING THE SECRETS OF THE HUMAN HEART—vs. 23-25

Jesus knows the human heart as no one else. On more than one occasion he read the secrets of men's hearts. He said that all need to be born again. He alone is fitted to be the judge of mankind. As Peter said to him "Lord, thou knowest all things, thou knowest I love thee."

CONCLUSION: Jesus is worthy of all authority. The Church today is under His authority. What would he do if he were to visit one of our churches today? What modern practices would fall under his censorship? What of Bazaars and Bingo? What would he say of making the announcement, in the middle of the Worship Service, concerning the coming sauerkraut Supper?

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Washington — Next Wednesday the Congress of the United States will reconvene for what is expected to be one of the most momentous and vital sessions in the history of the nation.

Many domestic issues challenge the nation's legislative body and grave problems face the President and the executive branch of the government.

The year 1954 could mark the crossroads in this nation's history, and might post a turning point for the entire world and its civilization. There assuredly will be political decisions, and political choices, which will chart the course of our nation's two party system for years.

It is encouraging to note that the leaders of both parties in the Congress approach their tasks prayerfully, in a spirit of dedication, and hopefully as befits a Bright New Year.

Housing Hopes — The Housing and Home Finance Agency has announced a million-home goal for 1954, with a program heavily dependent upon cooperation of private industry. Director Albert Cole's announcement has produced mixed reactions here but most have adopted a wait-and-see attitude. I am urging Mr. Cole to change signals quickly if the program falls short at any stage of requirements either of the building industry or the army of would-be homeowners.

New Farm Aid — When Secretary Benson approved an emergency loan program for 17 Florida counties hit by floods, he promised me prompt attention to requests for inclusion of additional counties under this Farmers Home Administration operation. Manatee now is added to the list and the door is still open for others which have a genuine need.

News Notes Off the Cuff — Most of my staff has gone home for Christmas that may mean it will take a day or two longer to respond to your letter (you know it is Christmas during the holiday season). Dr. Milton Eisenhower, back from a tour of Latin America, seems to have such a grasp of the problems of inter-American relations that I am urging him, as a logical follow-up to his report, to join us in bringing about the cultural and trade center at Miami. We have been within a hair's breadth many times of having government financial support for this project and a nod from the President would do the trick.

My staff joins me in wishing for all Florida a Bright, Prosperous 1954!

FLORIDA FARMERS TO MAKE TOUR

Fort Lauderdale, Fla.—Dutch convenience gained in centuries of fighting back the sea will provide valuable land-reclamation lessons for South Florida farmers when they visit The Netherlands this summer.

The Florida Farmers' "Good Will" tour of Europe, arranged by Broward County Farm Agent B. E. Lawton and the United Nations Food and Agricultural Committee, is scheduled to spend several days in the low countries during mid-July.
There, they will have an opportunity to learn the steps by which sea-bottom is first diked off, flooded with fresh water, and finally pumped dry to provide rich new farmlands.

The Wieringermeerpolder, representative of such projects, will be one focal point of their visit to Holland. Farms of the area, but recently reclaimed from the bottom of the Zuider Zee, will be studied. Lawton points out that reclamation, water-control and agricultural problems there are very similar to those throughout South Florida's farm and ranch lands.

"The Dutch have carried the process farther than we have to," he says, "by actually pushing back the sea. But the lessons they have learned apply just as much for us, in our effort to achieve complete water control in low-lying areas."

The tour will cover agricultural, marketing and food-processing installations throughout France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Scandinavia and Great Britain, as well as Holland. In addition to farm study, recreational and sightseeing features are planned for the Florida farmers and their families, with special activities for the wives.

The tour is scheduled to depart May 26th, on the Queen Mary and return July 21. Details may be obtained from the Tropical Travel Bureau, in Fort Lauderdale.

MANY NEW IMPROVEMENTS

A real desire to aid the trucking industry in solving an important problem is the only "secret" of GMC Truck's new Silent Power Exhaust system, P. J. Monaghan, general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division said this week.

The new system, standard at no extra cost on all 1954 models now in production, has brought a flood of favorable comment and inquiries from truck operators and newspapers throughout the country.

Since we first announced Silent Power at the recent American Trucking Association Convention in Los Angeles, everyone wants to know what "revolutionary principle" is used in its construction," Monaghan said.

"Our principle is not revolutionary in any way. Engineers know it takes increased muffler volume to quiet exhaust noise without increasing back pressure on the engine BUT a larger muffler costs more to produce.

"For years, the cost factor has been shrinking the size of mufflers throughout the industry until in some cases trucks have virtually a tomato can trying to muffle the exhaust of a powerful engine.

"GMC decided to reverse this trend by introducing larger mufflers made of heavier steel, and make them standard on all models.

"Muffler sizes have been increased in 1954 models by as much as three and one-half times," Monaghan said.

"We believe the quieter exhaust system will aid truck operators in improving relations with the public, which has shown increasing resentment against truck noises," Monaghan continued.

"As we said when GMC Silent Power Exhaust was first announced, other manufacturers are free to adopt this new muffler concept. For the good of the industry, we hope they will do so."

Monaghan disclosed that six separate mufflers were redesigned and greatly enlarged to fit the varied line of GMC trucks which range from a one-half ton pickup to 35 ton trucks.

To illustrate the greater size, the muffler for the 503 cubic inch engine (GMC's largest gas engine) was increased from 650 cubic inch capacity to 3173 cubic inches. The weight was increased from eight to 28 pounds.

Both increased diameters and increased lengths were combined to provide the additional volume. GMC engineers emphasized that the increased muffler size has not obliterated exhaust noise. However, it has definitely reduced GMC exhaust noise to the point where it is no more noticeable than other normal truck sounds such as tires, gears, fans and engines.

Further, they point out, internal construction of the muffler has changed the pitch of exhaust noise from a piercing whine offensive to the human ear to a low-pitched humming sound which does not offend the ear.

Silent Power Exhaust is equally effective on gas and diesel engines. It is also used on all GM buses.

pletely new line of automobiles.

But Buick didn't stop with the bolder, fresher, swifter-lined beauty you see in raised and lengthened fender sweep —in the huge and back-swept expanse of windshield—in the lowered roofline —in the host more glamor features of exterior modernity.

They upped all horsepowers to the highest in Buick history.

They engineered a new V8 for the SPECIAL—and in the process came up with new Power-Head Pistons that boost gasoline mileage in every engine.

They brought to market a sparkling newcomer with a famous name, the Buick CENTURY—a car with phenomenal horsepower for its weight and price—a car with more pure thrill per dollar than any Buick ever built.

And they did all this without change
